2nd | IPLASS Meeting

THE REGENERATIVE POTENTIAL OF PLACENTA-DERIVED CELLS

VIENNA (AUSTRIA)
SEPTEMBER 5, 2012

PROGRAM

Registration	Starting at 8.00
9.00 - 9.15	Opening and welcome remarks from the Organizers
9.15 - 10.05	SESSION 1 Identification and characterization of placenta-derived and amniotic fluid stem cells Chairs: Ornella Parolini, Markus Hengstschläger Keynote Lectures: (20 min. + 5 min. discussion each) Ornella Parolini: Human term placenta-derived cells: properties and potentials Markus Hengstschläger: Amniotic fluid stem cells as a tool for basic science
10.05 - 10.25	Coffee break
10.25 - 11.15	SESSION 2 Immunomodulatory properties: in vitro and in vivo studies Chairs: Susanne Wolbank, Christian Gabriel Keynote Lectures: (20 min. + 5 min. discussion each) Günther Eissner: Modulation of alloreactivity - are MSC the better "Tregs"? Peter Ponsaerts: Towards functional cell replacement therapy: does the developmental- and/or tissue-specific origin of stem cells direct micro-environmental immune changes following cell transplantation?"
11.15 - 12.15	Selected oral presentations
12.15 - 13.45	Lunch, meeting of IPLASS Board and General Assembly

13.45 - 15.00	SESSION 3 Placenta-derived cells in regenerative medicine and inflammatory/fibrotic processes Chairs: Daniel Surbek, Ursula Manuelpillai Keynote Lectures: (20 min. + 5 min. discussion each) Stephen Strom: Hepatic differentiation of human amniotic epithelial cells Daniel Surbek: Inflammation and neuroregeneration in preterm birth Racheli Ofir: PLX-3D expanded placenta cells as mitigators of radiation sickness
15.00 - 16.00	Selected oral presentations
16.00 - 16.30	Coffee break
16.30 - 17.30	SESSION 4 Production and regulatory issues Chairs: Simone Hennerbichler, Cesar Borlongan Keynote Lectures: (20 min. + 5 min. discussion each) Cesar Borlongan: Placenta: From basics to its translation and eventual entry to the clinic for cell therapy in neurological disorders Christian Gabriel: GMP based production of cryopreserved amnion
17.30	Poster Session - young researchers with the best oral and poster presentations will be awarded by AuxoCell Laboratories, Inc.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

IPLASS Meeting participants will receive a 10% discount on TERMIS registration. Please note that this discount will be in the form of a reimbursement to be provided on site.
